To Whom It May Concern,

I have been asked to comment regarding my experience with the L.E.A.P. (Lifestyle, Eating and Performance) Program. We have been performing these tests for well over a year now and have had phenomenal results.

Our most impressive results have come with Irritable Bowel Syndrome and Fibromyalgia, though we have had very impressive results as well with other conditions such as migraine, depression, and gastroesophageal reflux disease.

Our experience has been a 95% or better success rate, in that this percentage of persons have either become completely symptom free or have improved in their symptomology.

Reimbursement is excellent and easily obtained from private insurance companies. Signet Laboratories has been very easy to work with and are very aggressive about keeping us well stocked on supplies for these tests.

Overall, our experience has been a tremendous success and I would highly recommend it to any physician who deals with any of these problems.

Sincerely,

W. Brad Wilson, M.D.
